

A photograph of a person holding a bright yellow dandelion flower in front of a blurred background of a path and trees. The person's face is out of focus, and the flower is the central focus of the image. The background shows a paved path leading into a green field under a clear blue sky.

“Francis of Assisi is alleged to have said: “Preach the gospel always; if necessary using words.” It may be a great medieval soundbite, but it falls short of what the Bible teaches about evangelism.

Jesus began his public ministry by ‘proclaiming the good news of God.’ When he gained a reputation as a miracle worker, his response was to leave the area so that he could give himself to the task of proclamation for ‘that is why I have come.’...

“There is a tendency in some quarters today to promote a kind of evangelism without proclamation. Acts of service are done or people are invited to experience Christian worship. But without words of explanation these are like signposts pointing nowhere, or, worse still, signposts pointing to our good works. The gospel is good news: a message to be proclaimed, a truth to be taught, a word to be spoken and a story to be told.”

– Tim Chester & Steve Timmis, Total Church, p. 52

*“If we don’t speak the message of Jesus,
then our friends and family will look at us and our works,
rather than on God and His grace.”*

THE PARABLE

OF THE SOWER

When you sow, you grow.
When you grow, you sow.

1. The seed is a word, not an action.
2. We are called to grow and sow at the same time.
3. We will never be free of doubt, trouble, worry and work, so don't wait!
4. When you sow, you grow. When you grow, you sow. Act your way to become good soil and bear much fruit!
